MeatPad Plus:
High performance
without superabsorbers!

SuperCore Plus

McAirlaid's has developed SuperCore Plus, a breakthrough new material with unique properties: The core consists to 100% cellulose without any superabsorbent polymers. Through the use of longer fibers within the core, larger voids are created with a greater capillary effect resulting in much higher absorbency.

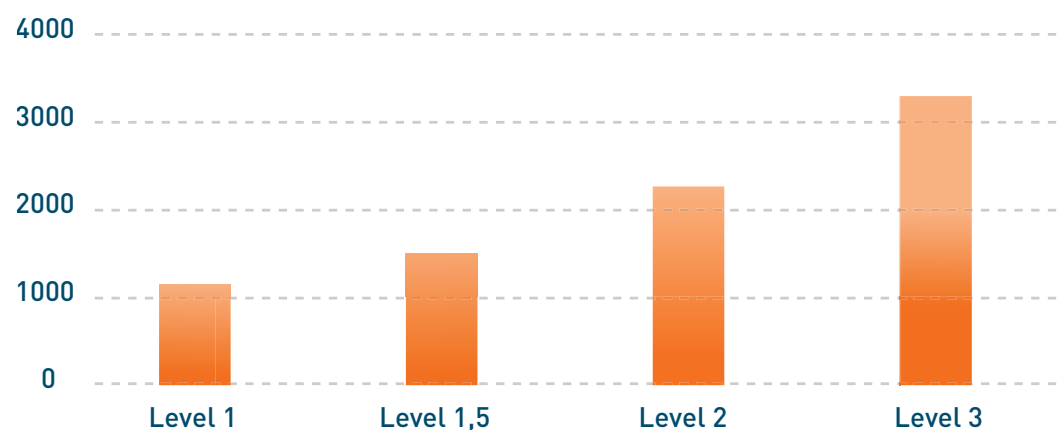

MeatPad Plus: High performance without superabsorbers!

MeatPad Plus

SuperCore Plus is McAirlaid's highly absorbent material without superabsorbers. With SuperCore Plus, MeatPad Plus absorbs water based and oily liquids equally well. MeatPad Plus absorbs all kind of liquids, even saltwater, as it is not affected by the mineral content of the fluid being absorbed.

As a result, the liquid absorption is constant and not adversely affected by the type of liquid. McAirlaid's now offers an even better absorption without the need for superabsorbers.

■ Drip g/m²

Testing method: We choose a pad size of 120 x 80mm and the tested meat was 500g pork.

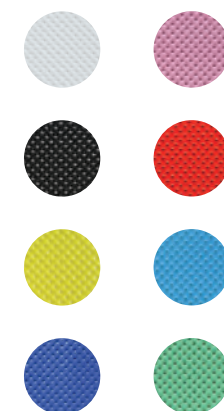

The facts:

- 100% virgin cellulose core with no synthetic binders
- No superabsorbers
- High absorption up to 4.000ml/m²
- Not listed in the category „active packaging“
- Independent of the EU regulation 450/2009
- Fulfills all BfR guidelines and certificates such as SWAN, PEFC
- More space inside the core – therefore higher capillary action
- Better fluid distribution independent of additives such as salt
- Absorbs all kinds of fluids
